Additionally it has been restructured for better flow on elaborating the food safety policy and risks, opportunities and FSMS objectives in separate sections. ○ Support for the FSMS involving the resource management, awareness, communication and documented information is introduced as an element that should be present and sustained throughout the entire framework. ○ The Do phase has mostly stayed the same in its structure but the content and lists of activities have been updated. ○ The Check phase retains monitoring, measurement, internal audit, and management review, with updated content enhancing performance evaluation. ○ The Act phase remains mostly the same with updated content and information. • References to standards such as ISO 22002-1 and ISO 22003-1 have been updated to reflect their latest versions. • New reference added from the newly introduced standard ISO 22002-100. • The case study has been removed. • Content has been updated to reflect the latest changes to the PECB certification process. An extended summary of the changes made throughout the days of the training course is provided below.
Day 1
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The structure of Day 1 has been reorganized, incorporating new design and content improvements. • The initial sections have been expanded to provide a deeper understanding of management systems, ISO 22000, similar regulations and the fundamental concepts and principles of food safety. • New section Analysis of the existing system has been added.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The FSMS scope section has been updated and reorganized as a standalone section, separate from the food safety policy, which differs in structure from the previous version • The sections on leadership and commitment and food safety policy were moved to the next day.
Day 2
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Day 2 begins with Leadership and Commitment, and then proceeds with the next section on the process of developing the food safety policy which has been elaborated in a separate section (Section 9). • The new version combines the process of determining the risks and opportunities with the establishment of the FSMS objective in Section 10. • Additionally, the new version introduces a dedicated Section 11 that consolidates all FSMS support activities covering resources, competence, awareness, communication, and documented information to ensure smoother integration and consistency across the implementation process.
Day 3
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • While the section titles largely remain unchanged and continue to elaborate on the activities under Clause 8, the content has been revised to incorporate updates from the latest version of the standards and recent advancements in food safety practices.
Day 4
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The structure of the sections on this day has remained mostly the same, with updates made to the content to improve clarity and relevance. • The sections have been expanded to include additional information, offering a more structured and comprehensive approach to performance evaluation and certification process.
